Programme structure

Part 1: Theory of the Maltese education system: Inclusion and Bilingualism.

All stages will be studied, from universal early-years provision and the “College Networks” system to dual vocational training and tertiary education, with a special focus on bilingualism and attention to diversity.

Part 2: Visit to an educational and specialised centre.

Together we will tour the facilities to observe teaching in real time.

Part 3: Cultural immersion in Malta. For this purpose, we have organised a cultural programme.

It explores everything from medieval citadels to Baroque heritage, helping us understand the “historical resilience” that defines Maltese society today.

Programme development

Explore Malta’s education system, a unique blend of British tradition and Mediterranean innovation, distinguished by constitutional bilingualism and an inclusive approach. It offers a comprehensive educational model that supports students from early childhood through university and professional excellence. In our talks,

We will cover the following points. The Maltese Education Model:

Constitutional bilingualism: Malta does not teach English as a foreign language, but as a second official language.

- Maltese: taught in identity-related subjects (History, Religion, Social Studies).
- English: used in STEM subjects such as Mathematics, Science and Technology. This creates additive bilingualism in which teachers and students switch naturally between languages (code-switching), a key skill observed in the classroom.

School structure (0-16 years)

State schools are grouped into Colleges (College Networks), geographical networks that manage the student’s entire educational pathway to ensure pedagogical continuity.

- Early Years (0-5 years):
 - Childcare (0-3)
 - Kindergarten (3-5)
- Primary Education (5-11 years)
 - Compulsory education begins at age 5.
 - Strong commitment to digital literacy: personal tablets integrated into daily teaching in the upper years (One Tablet Per Child).
 - Transition towards continuous (formative) assessment, reducing the weight of memorisation-based examinations.
- Secondary Education (11-16 years) - The “My Journey” Model:
 - Middle School (11-13)
 - Senior Secondary (13-16)

Higher and University Education

After age 16, the system offers differentiated but flexible pathways regulated by the national authority (MFHEA).

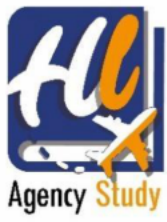

- University of Malta (UM): State institution founded in 1592
- Vocational training institutes and MCAST
- International institutions: Malta acts as an educational hub, hosting satellite campuses (e.g. Queen Mary University of London - Medicine) and private universities focused on business and technology.

4. The English Language Teaching (ELT) Sector

A private industry independent of the state system, positioning Malta as a leading destination for language tourism.

- Methodology
- Quality
- Immersion

The programme is delivered in Spanish; our team will provide language support whenever necessary.

Cultural and technical outings will be accompanied and include guided explanations.

To enrich the learning experience and complement the programme with full immersion, we will carry out a cultural and recreational itinerary.

Planned activities include guided visits around Valletta and its historical heritage, tours of Mdina and Rabat, the former medieval capital, and exploration of iconic landscapes.
